Global Overview

UK

The UK money markets experienced significant repricing throughout the second half of 2024 as inflation dynamics, labour market developments and decisions by the Bank of England (BoE) shaped expectations. In August and September, the BoE's Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) voted to maintain the Bank Rate at 5.00%, reflecting a cautious approach amid persistent inflationary pressures. However, in November, the MPC voted by a majority of 8–1 to reduce the Bank Rate by 0.25 percentage points to 4.75%, marking the first cut since 2020. This decision was influenced by signs of economic slowdown and easing inflation. In December, the MPC voted 6–3 to maintain the Bank Rate at 4.75%, with three members preferring a further 0.25 percentage point reduction, indicating a divergence in views regarding the balance between supporting growth and controlling inflation. Inflation remained central to monetary policy considerations. While headline Consumer Price Index inflation declined towards the BoE's 2.0% target, underlying pressures persisted. Core inflation and stubbornly high costs in the services sector signalled a challenging environment for price stability, with wage growth compounding inflationary risks. The BoE reaffirmed its commitment to maintaining a restrictive stance until price pressures were brought under control. Investor expectations for future rate cuts evolved significantly over the period. At the start of the third quarter, many investors anticipated steep reductions in the Bank Rate by mid-2025. However, with inflation proving more entrenched than forecast, sentiment shifted. By year end, expectations pointed to a slower pace of rate reductions, with the Bank Rate likely to remain above 4.0% into 2025. Fiscal policy developments added to market volatility. The Labour Government's first Budget in October introduced increased borrowing and spending measures aimed at boosting growth, but these raised concerns over potential inflationary effects. This fiscal backdrop further complicated the BoE's policy stance and contributed to shifts in the sterling yield curve, particularly across longer maturities. The UK economy showed further signs of cooling over the second half of the year. Sluggish demand and a softening labour market weighed on activity. The BoE maintained its data-dependent approach, emphasising inflation and wage trends as critical drivers of future monetary policy decisions.

Europe

The European Central Bank (ECB) continued to cut rates throughout the second half of 2024, responding to weaker growth and declining inflationary pressures. At its September meeting, the ECB reduced the deposit rate by 25 basis points (bps) to 3.50%, with no forward guidance, reflecting its data-dependent approach. Core inflation remained sticky, particularly in the services sector, as wage pressures persisted. The ECB lowered its growth forecasts through to 2026 while keeping its headline inflation projections unchanged. In October, the ECB cut the deposit rate again by 25 bps to 3.25%, accompanied by a dovish statement suggesting inflation could return to target "in the course of next year," earlier than its previous forecast of "over the second half of 2025." Despite these reductions, the ECB acknowledged that monetary policy remained restrictive as core inflation pressures persisted. Divergences within the euro area became more pronounced, with Germany's industrial economy continuing to struggle under high energy costs, while Spain's consumer-driven economy outperformed. The ECB implemented a further 25 bps cut in December, bringing the deposit rate to 3.00%. This meeting also featured a revision to economic forecasts, with weaker growth expectations offset by the resilience of the euro area's labour market, which saw record-low unemployment. The ECB reiterated its commitment to a data-dependent approach, stating that future policy adjustments would depend on inflation and growth dynamics. Political uncertainty in Europe added to the complexity. Germany's coalition government collapsed, triggering political instability in the euro area's largest economy, while France faced fiscal challenges following snap elections. These developments highlighted potential risks to fiscal coherence across the region and further complicated the ECB's monetary policy implementation.

US

The Federal Reserve (Fed) continued to ease monetary policy in the second half of 2024, cutting interest rates at each of its last three meetings. In September, the Fed lowered the federal funds rate by 50 bps to a target range of 4.75–5.00%, responding to weaker employment data and softer economic momentum. Investor confidence was buoyed by dovish commentary from Fed Chair Jerome Powell at the Jackson Hole symposium, where he emphasised a shift in focus towards growth and employment stability. In November, the Fed reduced the federal funds rate by a further 25 bps, bringing the range to 4.50–4.75%. This decision was influenced by improving inflation data, which indicated progress towards the Fed's 2% target for headline Personal Consumption Expenditures (PCE) inflation, even though core inflation remained elevated on that basis. The Fed highlighted the importance of maintaining a balanced approach amid mixed economic signals with some data pointing to ongoing resilience in consumer spending and employment. The final rate cut of the year came in December, when the Fed lowered rates by another 25 bps to 4.25–4.50%. Powell's remarks signalled that the policy rate was approaching a neutral level, indicating a potential pause in the cutting cycle. The Fed noted a growing divergence in member views, with one member dissenting and voting to hold rates steady. Inflation metrics, including core PCE inflation at 2.8% in December, supported the Fed's decision to adopt a less dovish tone while maintaining flexibility for future adjustments. The US economy displayed signs of resilience despite concerns about a sharp downturn earlier in the year. Labour market conditions remained tighter than expected, and positive surprises in economic data towards year end reduced the likelihood of a deep recession. However, geopolitical risks, fiscal uncertainty and the aftermath of the 2024 presidential election created a complex backdrop for monetary policy as the Fed navigated a challenging path forward.

Outlook

The BoE rate-cutting cycle has begun, but persistent inflation, rising wages and elevated inflation expectations may pose challenges even as economic activity softens. In Europe, the ECB has accelerated its monetary easing, though policy remains restrictive despite four consecutive rate cuts. The outlook is clouded by geopolitical risks, political instability in key euro area economies and a resilient labour market. Meanwhile, in the US, although economic metrics have slowed, the economy remains resilient, and core inflation readings remain above the central bank's 2% target for PCE inflation. The Fed's tone has shifted, with recent rate cuts bringing the policy rate closer to neutral, suggesting a more cautious approach ahead. Across these regions, central banks remain data dependent, with inflation trends, geopolitical risks and volatile market dynamics expected to shape the coming months.

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Luxembourg GAAP, applicable to Undertakings for Collective Investment Funds, and with the format prescribed by the Luxembourg authorities for Luxembourg investment companies.

The combined statements were calculated on the basis of aggregation of individual Funds statements with no elimination of cross-investments if any. As of 31 December 2024, the cross-investments within the Company represent USD 8,745,005, or 0.02% of the combined net asset value of the Company.

The NAVs have been calculated based on intraday stock market prices as of 31 December 2024. If the NAVs had been calculated based on closing stock market prices, the NAVs of the Funds would not have been materially different.

The financial statements of the Funds have been prepared on a going concern basis.

2. Accounting policies

a) Accounting convention

These financial statements are prepared in accordance with Luxembourg regulations applicable to Undertakings for Collective Investment Funds. The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention modified by the revaluation of investments.

b) Investment valuation

The valuation of investments is determined as follows:

- the value of securities and financial derivative instruments which are quoted, listed, traded or dealt on a market or any official stock exchange are based upon the last available quoted price;

- in the event that any of the securities held are not listed on any stock exchange or traded on any recognised market the value of such securities will be determined prudently and in good faith based on the reasonably foreseeable sales price. The Board shall be entitled to adopt an alternative method of valuing any particular asset if they consider that the methods of valuation set out above do not provide a fair valuation;

- the financial derivative instruments which are not listed on any official stock exchange or traded on any other organised market will be valued in a reliable and verifiable manner on a daily basis and verified by a competent professional appointed by abrdrn Liquidity Fund (Lux);

- reverse repurchase agreements ("reverse repos") are financial contracts where the lender buys securities for cash from a borrower and agrees to resell those securities at a later date. The fund obtains possession of collateral on the settlement date with a market value at least equal to the principal amount loaned under resale agreements. The fair value of the collateral relative to the amounts due under the agreements is monitored throughout the lives of the agreements and, when necessary, requires transfer of cash or securities in order to manage exposure and liquidity. Interest earned on the securities purchased is recorded as income in the Income Statement. Details of the transactions and non-cash collateral held at the period-end are disclosed in the other information section "Securities Financing Transactions" of the semi-annual report;

- units or shares in underlying open-ended investment funds or money market funds shall be valued at their last available net asset value (NAV). The NAV of the underlying open-ended fund is reflected gross of any redemption costs which may potentially arise upon redemption from the underlying fund. Any potential subscription or redemption costs are at the discretion of the board of the underlying fund, in both the value applied and any partial or full waiver thereof.

- Valuation rules applicable to non-Money Market Funds (Short Duration Sterling Fund)

Liquid assets and Money Market Instruments held by the Short Duration Sterling Fund are valued using Mark-to-Market plus any accrued interest but at the discretion of the Board of Directors may be based on the Amortised Cost Method for liquid assets and Money Market Instruments that have a residual maturity date until the legal redemption date of less than or equal to 397 days.

- Valuation rules applicable to Variable NAV Money Market Funds ("VNAV MMF") (Seabury Euro Liquidity 1 Fund, Seabury Sterling Liquidity 1 Fund, Seabury Sterling Liquidity 2 Fund, Seabury Sterling Liquidity 3 Fund)

Securitisations, Asset Backed Commercial Paper and Money Market Instruments will be valued at Mark-to-Market. Where the value of the assets of a VNAV MMF cannot be calculated following the Mark-to-Market, their value shall be determined by using Mark-to-Model.

- Valuation rules applicable to constant or Low Volatility NAV Money Market Funds ("LVNAV MMF") (Euro Fund, Sterling Fund, US Dollar Fund)

Securitisations, Asset Backed Commercial Paper and Money Market Instruments will be valued using the Amortised Cost Method for assets that have a residual maturity of up to 75 days and where the price of that asset calculated with the Amortised Cost Method does not deviate from the Mark-to-Market price by more than 10 basis points. In the event of such a deviation the value will be calculated at Mark-to-Market. Where the value of the assets of the LVNAV MMF cannot be calculated following the Mark-to-Market, their value shall be determined conservatively by using Mark-to-Model.

c) Investment income

Interest is accrued on a day-to-day basis. In the case of debt securities issued at a discount or premium to maturity value, the total income arising on such securities, taking into account the amortisation of such discount or premium on an effective interest rate basis, is spread over the life of the security.

Dividends are accounted for on an ex-dividend basis. Interest and dividend income are stated net of irrecoverable withholding taxes, if any.

Interest on term deposits is accounted for on an accruals basis.

d) Foreign exchange

The books and records of each Fund are denominated in the base currency of the corresponding Fund. Amounts denominated in other currencies are translated into the base currency on the following basis:

(i) investment valuations and other assets and liabilities initially expressed in other currencies are converted on each business day into the base currency using exchange rates prevailing on each business day; and

(ii) purchases and sales of foreign investments, income and expenses are converted into the base currency using currency exchange rates prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions.

The combined statements correspond to the sum of the statements of each Fund, converted to USD. The combined figures in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets have been calculated using the exchange rates ruling at the period-end date. The resulting foreign exchange adjustment of USD (445,097,000) represents the movement in exchange rates between 30 June 2024 and 31 December 2024. This is a notional amount, which has no impact on the net assets of the individual Funds.

Realised and unrealised exchange differences on the revaluation of foreign currencies are taken to the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets.

Main exchange rates used as at 31 December 2024 are as follows:

d) Foreign exchange (continued)

1 USD =	0.965717	EUR
1 USD =	0.798467	GBP

e) Realised gains and losses on investments

A realised investment gain or loss is the difference between the historical average cost of the investment and the sale proceeds.

When valued at amortised cost realised gain and loss on investments are recorded under "Interest income on bonds, net" in the Statements of Operations.

When valued at Mark-to-Market realised gain/(loss) and unrealised appreciation/(depreciation) on investments are recorded separately.

3. Share class information

a) General

Within each Fund, the Company is entitled to create different share classes. These are distinguished by their distribution policy or by any other criteria stipulated by the Directors. Classes suffixed with a '1' or '3' are Distribution shares and Classes suffixed with a '2' are Accumulation shares. Please refer to the prospectus for further details. For a list of current live share classes please visit www.abrdn.com.

b) UK Reporting Fund Regime

UK Reporting Fund Regime Status is granted prospectively by the UK taxation authorities. It is the intention of the Board of Directors to continue to comply with the requirements of the Reporting Fund Regime for certain share classes.

Equalisation applies only to shares purchased during the distribution period (Group 2 shares). It is the average amount of income included in the purchase price of Group 2 shares.

Annually and within six months of the year-end, the Manager will publish the UK Reporting Regime Report to investors for all share classes granted reporting Fund status on its website (abrdn.com).

The UK Reporting Regime Report to investors for each share class can also be requested in writing by contacting the Shareholder Service Centre as detailed in the Management and Administration section of this report.

c) Switches

Shares in one Fund may be exchanged or switched into shares of a different class in the same Fund, subject to the qualifications for investment being met, on any dealing day for the relevant Fund. Shares in the same class may not be switched between accumulation and income shares or between accumulation and flexible income shares. Investors may switch either a specific number of shares or shares of a specified value.

Investors in any Fund of the Company may not exchange their shares for shares of the same or another class in any other Fund of the Company.

Any exchange of shares is subject to meeting the relevant share class qualifications and to the limitations and charges described in the prospectus.

For full details on switching contact the Global Distributor, UK Distributor, Transfer Agent or client.operations.emea@abrdn.com.

d) Swing pricing adjustment /dilution levy

Frequent subscriptions and redemptions can potentially have a dilutive effect on the Fund's NAV per share and be detrimental to the long term investors as a result of the transaction costs that are incurred by the Fund in relation to the trades undertaken by the Investment Manager.

There are different policies which apply to different Funds.

3. Share class information (continued)

d) Swing pricing adjustment /dilution levy (continued)
